Dear Judge Thomas Durkin,

^{His} This book writing would allow him to demonstrate his ability to look into his vast experience and stop the train of evil and self loathing. Yes, self loathing is the greatest punishment.

Writing is a way to live on a new level.

Jesus rose from the dead and promised that we too will rise. Why wait? Denny Hastard will re-invent himself

As an adjunct to a way to carrying out a sentence to write a book a month (first a book a week for 10 weeks) the Chicago Public Schools authorize a teacher to visit ^{the} home of children who cannot attend school for several weeks due to illness, to give homework and assess learning. A teacher from Chicago could visit Denny Hastard to review, correct and direct his authoring his books.

This teacher visit could include aspiring journalists from colleges, professors. Denny would also inspire the teachers to look deeply into their own lives. A win/win for all. Take heart, the great Almighty has chosen you to help His children.

Dear Judge, Thomas Durkin April 8, 2016

As you know writing reflects who the author is just as a mirror shows his visual looks, captured on a camera, or a fleeting glance in the store front window, writing allows a & vision into his ~~welsh~~ wellspring of goodness or not.

Good writing helps us, as a reader to join the author in his adventures. The first two chapters give us, the readers to know where we are, who is our guide, why we need to go quickly, where we are headed.

Denny Hastard could certainly do this.

A good story uses emotion to make the situation situation plausible - "feel real." Reader can feel the emotions and empathize with the character's choice, of roads to go. Some succeed, some allow failure.

I know this is a great way to spend your life!

I hope this sentence _____ is less about where + when (home vs jail) + (6 months - ?) and more of accomplishment (writing stories at 4th + 6th grade levels)

and why

(to harness his life learning) for numerous students & parents) and work out his salvation,

Mary Agnes
